BREAKFAST PROGRAM OFFERS PAMPERING AND CANCER PREVENTION

“Breakfast of Beauty” Set For May 22nd in Westampton

Just after Mother’s Day and in honor of women, the Burlington County Health Department invites women of Burlington County to a “Breakfast of Beauty.”

The Breakfast will be held on May 22, 2010 from 9am-11:30am at Deerwood Country Club in Westampton. Attendees will receive cancer prevention education along with screening, treatment and coping messages.

As if that wasn’t enough, the Rizzieri’s Aveda School will be there to pamper the guests while they are learning. Women who register for Breakfast of Beauty will receive a free meal, breast health literature, a goody bag and are also eligible to win door prizes.

"Education and early detection is the closest thing we have to a cure," said Robert Gogats, Health Officer for Burlington County. "It is the simplest and most effective way to increase the odds of survival."
